

This guide was put together by the East Central Indiana Solid Waste District to give residents of Delaware, Grant and Madison Counties a place to find resources on recycling, waste reduction and earth-friendly living. We hope that you and your family will find the answers you seek to make better decisions for the earth and your family.

Although we have tried to include everything that we could we know that there may be institutions in our District that we have managed to miss. Please let us know about them so we can include them. Also, by no means is this list all inclusive and there are hundreds of different ways to practice reuse including resale shops and even garage sales.

In addition to this guide, the East Central Indiana Solid Waste District offers many services to the residents of Delaware, Grant and Madison Counties. Please contact us if you have any questions about waste reduction. Our staff can assist your organization about recycling programs and we love to speak to groups (including schools and organizations) about different topics related to recycling and waste reduction.

Why?

Why have a green living guide?

Every action that we take on the earth affects not only the environment around us, but our health as well. Studies have shown that pollutants in our environments, both at home and elsewhere, have been linked to various cancers and other health problems. Also, our earth has limited resources that we rely on such as fossil fuels and even water. Through green living we can make sure the earth continues to provide us with what we need.

Why bother with recycling?

Recycling is the easiest way to take care of our earth. It's free for most household items, available to all the residents in Delaware, Grant and Madison Counties. Plus recycling usually saves more than half the resources it would take to make things from new materials. For example, recycling one aluminum can saves enough electricity to run a television for more than 4 hours. One ton of recycled paper uses 64% less energy, 50% less water, produces 74% less air pollution and creates 5 times more jobs than one ton of paper products from virgin wood pulp. There are more, but the point is there is no good reason not to recycle.

Some general rules about recycling:

Please rinse all materials and remove caps. Plastic caps are not accepted in the recycling programs but see listings under "Caps" for options. If the caps are metal, they can be included in with the other metals. You do not need to remove labels, no matter the container.

For other items not accepted at the recycling facilities, see those sections for some other options.

About 25% of what we send to the landfill is yard waste, so it seems like a shame to not consider home composting. Plus, it's free and gives us a great way to grow healthier yards.

Here are some "recipes" to get started with composting in your yard.

"LASAGNA" GARDENING

Difficulty: Easy Results: Fast

1. Vary "green" and "brown" materials in layered sheets over entire garden BEFORE you plant. "Green" material is young weeds, grass clippings, or food waste and "brown" material is twigs, small branches, shrubbery clippings, dry leaves or straw.
2. Leave the material alone and plant directly into the compost.

DUMP & RUN COMPOSTING

Difficulty: Easy Results: Extremely Fast

1. Gather food scraps (no meat, dairies, pet manure or grease).
2. Bury the scraps at least one foot deep in your garden.

MULCH COMPOSTING

Difficulty: Easy Results: Fast

1. Spread grass clippings (non-treated) and leaves as mulch. Mulch should be no more than 3 inches thick.
2. Keep mulch at least one inch away from plant stems.

COMPOSTING: BIN, PILE OR HEAP

Difficulty: Moderate Results: Moderate

1. Start with bare soil (this is your first "brown" layer). Exposed soil allows flora and fauna living there to travel into your compost and aid in the decomposition of the materials.
2. Add a layer of "green" which could include young weeds, grass clippings, or food waste.
3. Add some "browns" like twigs, branches, shrubbery clippings, dry leaves, or straw.
4. Add moisture to the pile until it feels like a wrung-out sponge.
5. "Toss" the pile like a salad as time allows (not necessary but speeds the process a bit).
